GAME PREVIEW

PATRIOTS VS. RAVENS

WEEK 16 | SUNDAY, DEC. 21, 2025

RB Derrick Henry

QUOTH THE RAVEN

"I think the message has been clear. It's kind of 'win or die trying,' and with our backs against the wall, some people look at it as a bad thing. I think we're kind of looking at it as a good thing, because you just have to do it – or you don't. There's no more talking."

— CB Marlon Humphrey
on the Ravens' mindset

- It's a Sunday Night Football primetime battle from M&T Bank Stadium when the Baltimore Ravens (7-7) host the New England Patriots (11-3). Baltimore currently sits behind 8-6 Pittsburgh in the AFC North standings, while New England holds a one-game lead over 10-4 Buffalo. The Ravens have won six of their past eight games after starting the season 1-5, while the Patriots have won 10 of their last 11 contests.

- Following tonight's game, the Ravens conclude regular season play with road games at Green Bay (Saturday night, Dec. 27) and at Pittsburgh (Jan. 3 or 4).

- New England leads the all-time regular season series vs. Baltimore, 9-3. In postseason play, the series is tied, 2-2. Under head coach John Harbaugh, the Ravens are 5-7 overall against the Patriots, including a 2-1 mark in Charm City. These teams last met in Baltimore for a 2019 Sunday Night Football game, when the Ravens won, 37-20.

- Harbaugh (18th season) is the NFL's second-longest-tenured head coach (Mike Tomlin - 19), with his 192 total wins ranking as the 13th most by a HC in NFL history. Harbaugh has led Baltimore to 12 playoff berths in the past 17 seasons and to six postseason appearances in the last seven years (including three straight).

- In a 24-0 victory at Cincinnati last Sunday, Baltimore became the first team since at least 1950 to record just 40 offensive plays while also shutting out an opponent. Behind a relentless defense that posted 10 QB hits, 3 sacks and a 95-yard INT-TD return (OLB Kyle Van Noy pick & lateral to S Alohi Gilman), the Ravens earned

NUMBERS TO NOTE

15 Shutouts the Ravens' defense has produced – including last Sunday's 24-0 blanking of Cincinnati – since the franchise's 1996 inception. Baltimore's 15 shutouts during this time tie (New England) for the NFL's most.

1 NFL ranking for P Jordan Stout's net punting average (45.0) this season. His 50.9 gross average stands No. 3 in the league.

17 An NFL-high runs of 20+ yards by Baltimore this season, 6 of which have produced TDs (tied w/ Det. for the NFL's most).

384 Consecutive games the Ravens have scored, which is the NFL's longest active streak and the third-longest streak in league history (SF – 420, 1977-2004; Den. – 394, 1992-2017).

9 NFL ranking in receiving yards (959) for WR Zay Flowers (on 71 catches) this season. Flowers is one of just six NFL WRs in 2025 to record at least 70 receptions and 900 receiving yards.

their fourth-consecutive road win. Baltimore's offense was efficient, with QB Lamar Jackson throwing 2 TDs on 8-of-12 passing, while RB Derrick Henry (100) and RB Keaton Mitchell (66) led a ground game that racked up 189 yards.

ON HIS TEAM'S RESILIENCE, FIGHT & ATTITUDE:

"I love our guys. I love the way they compete. I love the way they stick together. They don't let the outside buzz bother them at all. They don't really care about the silly things that people worry about. They get locked in on what they have to do, and they play their best football that they're capable of playing that day. You chase perfection; we say perfection is attainable. ... So, if you can achieve perfection, you might as well chase it. And that's what I appreciate about our guys."

ZAY FLOWERS:
UNMATCHED ENERGY

By Holli Burnett

Wide receiver Zay Flowers is closing in on another 1,000-yard season, just three years into his role as one of the Ravens' go-to targets.

The shifty pass catcher is highly regarded for his prolific route running and his unmatched separation ability. With 383 yards after the catch this season, Flowers' YAC numbers are some of the highest in the NFL. Oftentimes referred to as "slippery," the South Florida native's knack for extending plays is next to none. If you've watched a Ravens game over the last three seasons, it's guaranteed that you've seen the 5-foot-9, 183-pound receiver breaking tackles and making game-changing plays against opponents across the league.

Becoming a go-to guy on any team is a difficult feat. Doing so on an offense like Baltimore's — one filled with talent from top to bottom — presents even more of a challenge. Regardless, that challenge is one Flowers has welcomed with open arms.

When asked about the host of stars lining the Ravens' locker room, Flowers shared, "[Lamar Jackson] can do everything. So, when you have him out there, you don't really know what to expect if you're on defense, because he can throw it or run it. And then we have Derrick [Henry], and we have Mark [Andrews] and the tight ends — we have everybody. So, I feel like it puts teams in a tougher situation when they're playing against us."

In the Lamar Jackson era, the Ravens have been known for their dynamic offense, with playmakers at each skill position vying for the rock. From the future Hall of Fame running back in Henry to all-time Ravens receiving leader Andrews to the two-time MVP Jackson, it is not easy to get the "lion's share" of plays on the call sheet. In the midst of all of that, you'll find No. 4 as the 2025 Ravens receptions (71) and receiving yards (959) leader, a title he has held in each of his three seasons in Baltimore.

This season, Flowers moved into the Top 10 in franchise history in receiving yards and has quickly cemented himself as WR1 — a crucial weapon in Baltimore's offensive arsenal.

Along with his ability to make explosive plays, the former first-rounder from Boston College also has an infectious personality that shines through both on and off the field.

"You can definitely feel Zay's energy," said offensive coordinator Todd Monken. "You can feel it on the field. You can feel it in the locker room. You can feel it around the building. But ultimately, on the field, it's about his playmaking."

Veteran and first-time teammate DeAndre Hopkins has enjoyed working alongside Flowers, helping mentor him: "Seeing Zay have one of his best seasons in his career, that gives me joy — just being able to be out there with him in practice, coaching him through some things and just watching him grow as a player."

Baltimore's first drafted receiver to earn a Pro Bowl (2024), Flowers has garnered not only the respect of his teammates and coaches, but also those outside of "The Castle" walls.

Whether you're watching him juke out corners on deep-field routes or seeing him light up when he interacts with members of the Charm City community, it's clear that Zay Flowers is the type of player you want on your squad.

OLB DRE'MONT JONES EVERMORE

Meet Dre'Mont Jones — the Ravens' outside linebacker acquired at the trade deadline — who has heavily contributed to Baltimore's defensive resurgence. Since the former third-round pick and Ohio State alum joined the unit in Week 9, the Ravens rank among the league's best in most statistical categories. Get to know him below.

What is something you're probably too old for but still enjoy?

Something I am too old for but still enjoy — warm milk with cookies.

What has been your favorite part of being in Baltimore so far?

The crabs!

If you didn't play football, what do you think you would be doing?

I have three jobs in mind. A trash man, because I remember being in second grade, and that was my dream job. I don't know why, but I will go with that. Also, a nurse or a basketball player.

Who was your favorite NBA team when you were growing up?

Being from Cleveland, I love the Cavaliers.

Is there a lesson or a memory from your rookie season that taught you something you carry with you?

What advice would you give your rookie self?

I would tell my rookie self not to go into this with any expectations and just be prepared for every game like it's a Super Bowl-type game, because the people you're going against are not slouches. So, prepare with maximum effort every time.

What/who is your biggest motivation?

My family, myself and just the love of the game — all of those things motivate me.

Which game show would you be on and win?

What's the one where you do the obstacles? The Challenge — I want to do that. People are super talented at that, and I think with my training, I could do it.

What is something on your bucket list?

I want to learn how to swim and go skydiving.

What are some of your favorite movies or TV shows?

I think in recent years, my favorite TV show has been Dexter. I also like Narcos. Those are probably my two favorite shows of this era. My favorite two movies of all time are the live action Scooby Doo and Titanic.

What is a fact about you that other people would find hard to believe?

A fact about me that's hard to believe is in middle school, I won a three-point shooting contest.

COMMUNITY SHOWCASE ON RAVENSWALK

Tonight's Community Showcase featured Heart Smiles. For more information on the organization, please visit: www.heartsmilesmd.com

Earlier this year, RB Derrick Henry hosted a back-to-school event for 200 students from Curtis Bay Elementary/Middle School. In November, he also purchased and distributed turkeys to community members across Baltimore.

2025 WALTER PAYTON MAN OF THE YEAR

Multi-time All-Pro, five-time Pro bowler and 2020 AP Offensive Player of the Year, RB Derrick Henry was selected as the Baltimore Ravens winner for the 2025 Walter Payton NFL Man of the Year Award.

Upon entering the NFL, Henry launched the Two All Foundation, created to honor the legacy and life of his grandmother, Gladys Henry, who played an integral role in his upbringing. The purpose of the foundation is to empower youth through education and values.

Since joining the Ravens, Henry has focused on Baltimore's underserved communities through partnering with the United Way of Central Maryland. He has hosted back-to-school events, purchased and distributed Thanksgiving meals and hosted his own holiday gift donations. On the field, Henry is NFL's active leader in rushing yards (12,354) and rushing touchdowns (116), ranking fifth all-time in TDs and 11th in yards. He is one of only eight players in league history to surpass 12,000 rushing yards and 100 rushing TDs.

IN OUR COMMUNITY

6/21 RB Derrick Henry returned home to host his annual Two All Carnival community day in his hometown of Yulee Florida. The event included a backpack and bike giveaway.

7/24 The Ravens annually host nearly 100 different youth groups for summer Training Camp practices. Henry brought out students from Curtis Bay Elementary to watch practice and interact with the team.

11/17 Henry purchased turkeys to donate through the Ravens annual Thanksgiving turkey donations. Henry was on-site at New Shiloh Baptist Church to hand out turkeys to community members.
